ONIX[®]

How far does your imagination go?

ONIX was a great success in Coverings 2011

(07/04/2011)- ONIX shares its last creations, FuseGlass and OnixTextures, with designers and architects in the last Coverings edition, a fair of coverings of the USA that took place in Las Vegas.

The most avant-garde ONIX creations could not be missed in this international event, considered one of the most important displays throughout the world, in which the latest trends and decoration for interior design are set during its four days. Traditionally Coverings is the main spot for people who are related in one way or another with the design of interior spaces and develop an important role in this way, shaping the master lines that the future sector development will follow in the United States.

FuseGlass reflects perfectly the futuristic spirit of this fair, leading the avant-garde of glass mosaic. FuseGlass reveals its creative and innovative character. This is achieved thanks to the harmonious material combination such as GlamGlass, MoonGlass and glass mosaic pieces that give metallic effects fused them together.

OnixTextures represents another step forward in ONIX effort to provide new design proposals. Shapes, textures, patterns, in a wide range of colours and shades, developed thanks to the harmonious combination of the finest glass mosaics by ONIX. Gold, silver, almost impossible reflections, elegance and style, very useful, at the disposal of every client. The functionality, beauty and the fact that evokes futuristic spaces are harmonious values in these last ONIX creations.

ONIX stand was visited by a large number of professionals of different fields: from architects and designers to important wholesalers who came from diverse parts of the American continent and journalists from the most famous media. ONIX success in this edition was remarkable, thanks to the confidence placed in the design and the excellence of its products, made of a 98% recycled glass.
